life, sometimes you're going to fail before you win.

learn to fortify themselves before turning to a challenge.

you."

your children experience just the right challenge.

Remind them of their successes: "I'll never be able to do it!" Chances are you've heard your children utter